About US

BIOSELECTA was founded with the idea of sustainable development and giving back to the community. We decided to start a common project. After some time travelling around the world to learn about different cultures use of plants, BIOSELECTA became one of the leading companies in cultivation, harvest, drying, processing aromatic and medicinal plants. Based on the principles of organic agriculture.

BIOSELECTA offers over 250 aromatic and medicinal herbs, spices, herbal teas, supplementary food, Superfood and essential oils exclusively from our own organic farming.

BIOSELECTA works according to five continents, with motivation and commitment we have gained in experience, knowledge, know-how, as well as project partners and satisfied customers. Concentrating a human capital increasingly specialized, committed and aware in this scope.

OUR Philosophy

At BIOSELECTA our motivation is based on a philosophy of creating environmentally responsible products, of the best quality, at the lowest possible price. We do this not only to make them more readily affordable to our customers' families, but to reward and provide incentive for people to do the right thing to protect our planet and make the important shift to more eco-sensitive alternatives.

It doesn't make sense to develop advanced products that 'don't cost the Earth', then charge a premium that unfairly prevents anyone from purchasing and using them. Across our household cleaning and personal care offerings, our unwavering aim is to combine the best in green attributes with product qualities that succeed in meeting users performance expectations, along with outstanding value for money.

The easier we make it for consumers to be environmentally aware, the more likely they are to get on board which is better not only for the planet, but for their hip pocket as well.

BIOSELECTA has consistently helped to grow the market for organic herbs and spices by refusing to compromise on quality and organic integrity

In addition to our own programme of food safety we are inspected and approved by leading third party organizations that range from Soil Association organic certification to BRC, Fair-trade.

In addition, we routinely carry out analysis on our product range using a risk based system for the following:

- Pesticide residues
- Microbiological load
- Mycotoxins
- Heavy metals
- Essential Oils
